

Katie Kalkstein received her degree from Savannah College of Art and Design. She explores the relationship between people, landscape, and their changing environment with its inherent mysteries and dualities. Her work has been in shows nationwide and internationally, and is in many private collections. She has also been published several times in Diffusion magazine and was a Critical Mass Top 200 Artist in 2014. She teaches at Art Students League in Denver, CO, and is represented by Anzenberger Gallery, Vienna, Austria.